CARBON TENNIS CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

The second annual dinner of the Carbon Lawn Tennis Club was held on November 5th in the Farmer's Exchange Hall, Carbon. Forty-one attended, but a somewhat larger crowd was expected as there are now seventy-five members of the Tennis club, whereas last year with forty-six members there were forty present at the banquet. Those present spent a very enjoyable time, and after the banquet the president, C. H. Nash, gave a review of the work of the club during the past year and outlined plans for the future. The following toasts were given and replied to: Our King and Country, proposed by C. H. Nash and replied to by J. M. MacDonald. Our Town, proposed by Len Poxon, replied to by W. A. Braisher. The Ladies, proposed by V.B. Hawkins and replied to by Mrs. Malton. Kindred Sports, proposed by J. Hart and responded to by G. Peters. The Game, proposed by Miss K. Ramsay and responded to by W. A. Braisher. The Officers of the Club, proposed by A. H. Jealous and responded to by Mrs. Peters.

Community singing was the order of the program between the various toasts, and the sketches of "Mollie," which each guest was presented with, caused a great deal of amusement. The function closed at 10 p.m. with the singing of "God Save the King."

PARAMOUNT HITS AGAIN WITH "OLD IRONSIDES"

As a motion picture spectacle "Old Ironsides," which will be shown at the Carbon Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week, will remain supreme for a long time.

The intrepid vivacity of the brave New England Yankees who abandoned their homes and families to answer the call to arms against the pirates of Tripoli in 1804 is recorded in a masterly fashion in photoplay. The production is based upon an original story by Lawrence Stallings and was suggested and adopted for the screen by Harry Carr and Walter Woods.

It is "a great picture" and offers to the public much that is new in screen technique. Pictorially it stands as one of the most beautiful photoplays ever flashed upon the screen. For natural comedy and sincere humanness it is unsurpassed. Sensation crowds sensation.

The picture is one we recommend unqualifiedly to every person on earth, no matter what their taste in the theatre or in the movies. There is never a dull moment. Following such brilliant direction as James Cruze supplied in "The Covered Wagon," we heartily nominate him as without question one of the greatest directors of all times. And the human note—the heart interest—the love theme stands out in "Old Ironsides" just as they did in "The Covered Wagon."

Esther Ralston, Wallace Beery, Geo. Bancroft, Charles Farrell and Johnny Walker all did their bit. None of them could have been improved upon. "Old Ironsides" truly stands as the greatest story of early America and her people that has ever been offered upon the screen.

In view of the fact that the big game hunting season opens on November 1, the Alberta Provincial Police issued a reminder with regard to that provision of the Game Act which obliges all hunters to be clothed in white. It is the intention of the A.P.P. to see that this provision is strictly observed during the big game season.

Canada Among the Nations

Canadians of all classes can hardly fail to feel a thrilling pride in the rapid strides forward made by their Dominion in the realm of international affairs. Since that fateful day in 1914, when the world was plunged into war, and Canada at once, and without the slightest hesitation, took its place in the front rank of the Allied hosts, the growth of this country in world estimation and influence, has been one of the remarkable features of the international situation.

Hardly a year has passed without witnessing some new advance step taken, or some noteworthy achievement added to the record, revealing Canada's new and higher status in the councils of the nations.

Concisely, but eloquently, Sir Robert Borden outlined the Dominion's growth in international stature within the short space of the last two years in a memorandum prepared and submitted by him to the Institute of Pacific Relations now in session at Kyoto, Japan. Since 1927, when the Institute last assembled, Canada had adhered to the multilateral pact for the renunciation of war, has given adherence to the optional clause in the statutes of the Permanent Court of International Justice, has exchanged ministers with France and Japan.

Canada, too, has aligned itself wholeheartedly with Premier Ramsay MacDonald and President Hoover in their fine effort to promote mutual understanding and goodwill between all sections of the English-speaking world, thus paving the way for a larger measure of world disarmament, and making an immensely important advance toward the goal of permanent world peace.

Nor has Canada confined its efforts to the signing of treaties and the making of gestures. When the unfortunate incident of the "Im Alone" arose, a happening which in days gone by might have precipitated almost immediate war, and certainly a feeling of hostility containing the seeds of future trouble, Canada kept cool, and through the medium of diplomatic correspondence between Ottawa and Washington, a basis of arbitration was quickly and mutually arranged to the satisfaction of both nations. Speaking of this correspondence, Sir Robert says:

"The diplomatic correspondence on the subject between Canada and the United States is admirable in tone, and the questions of fact and law presented are set out lucidly and temperately on each side."

In the Assembly and Council of the League of Nations, Canada's voice is always heard in support of all measures calculated to make for peace. This Dominion is a real leader at Geneva in all efforts to promote international understanding and goodwill, and in the devising of ways and means to remove causes of suspicion and irritation.

Co-incidental with the rise of Canada as a factor in international affairs, the foreign trade of the Dominion has increased by leaps and bounds until now this country can boast of the second largest world trade per head of population. Canada's ministers at Washington, Paris and Tokio, are reinforced in this work of creating international goodwill and prestige for Canada by a large and steadily increasing number of trade commissioners in all parts of the globe.

Canada's strong position can be made stronger through the united sympathy and effort of the Canadian people. Sir Robert Borden, while voicing unqualified praise of the anti-war pact, declared that the peace of the world cannot be secured by treaties alone, nor can it be maintained by force. The same foundation which assures ordered liberty and justice in a modern civilized state must be created on an international scale if peace is to endure.

The education and idealism of the people, their inherited respect for law, and their determination to maintain order and justice against crime and lawlessness," Sir Robert said, "are the real foundations upon which stable government rests. In the world there must be an international public opinion upon which will be established between the nations the enthronement of public right and justice."

Canada, no less than other countries, has everything to gain through the development of such an international public opinion. Only by the maintenance of peace can Canada's great foreign trade continue to prosper and grow. The development of an international public opinion must begin within each national unit and spread through the whole body of humanity.

Canada has that international viewpoint. It is growing stronger, and every true Canadian will exert himself or herself to foster it. It is one of the greatest things in the nation and in the world today.

Both the Mediterranean and the Gulf Stream which flows like an individual sea in the Atlantic, are very salty and of a deep and beautiful blue in color.

Newspapers were the only material used for the whole of a house, with the exception of the frame work, the windows and the floors, built in Massachusetts by a married couple.

Acid Stomach

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer, when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

England Not So Slow

When Necessary Can Show Other Countries What Speed Is

The distance between Paddington and Swindon, in England, is seventy-six and one quarter miles. The Great Western Railway of that country has announced that it has cut the time of one of its passenger trains between these stations to seventy minutes. That looks as if these English trains are operating at about sixty-six miles an hour.

Sometimes we think that we are masters of all the speed on this side of the water. When our trains average fifty miles an hour we consider that we are not letting any grass grow under our feet.

Not long ago a British aviator went out and flew a seaplane at a speed of 368 miles an hour. That was the fastest time ever made by any kind of vehicle capable of carrying a human being.

It must be admitted that when the Old Country people set out to make fast time they are in a hurry. It is quite erroneous to harbor the opinion that they are slow. They have a leisurely way in certain affairs, but in others they are speedy.

NERVE TORTURES

A Condition From Which Both Men and Women Suffer

Hardly any condition of ill health causes more real suffering than a shattered nervous system. And often, unfortunately, but little sympathy is shown for the sufferer, from the mistaken notion that the nerves can be controlled. Men and women with nerves out of gear often become irritable and are blamed for ill temper, when it is not their fault. Their poor health is the cause. The tired, over-busy wife and mother, whose household cares have worn her thin; the breadwinner whose anxieties have worried him until he is really ill, are among the nerve sufferers who become run-down. Their nerves, like all bodily organs, need rich, red blood. In all such cases the best and simplest treatment is a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which enriches the blood and builds up the nervous system and brings good health and cheerfulness. Mrs. M. Cross, Richmond, Que., tells how this medicine ended her nervous troubles. She says:—"I have suffered from nervousness and dizzy spells, and the hundred and one things which in such a condition make life a misery. The first thing I found to help me was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Under the use of this medicine I found my nerves grew steeper, the dizzy spells grew less frequent, and I became brighter and more cheerful. I took the pills for some time and found that they enrich the blood, build up the nerves and are a fine medicine for both old and young."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Safer To Stand Up

Mussolini Had Amusing Experience At Theatre In Italy

You don't have to believe this, but a gentleman returned from abroad says that an American girl studying Italy went into a moving-picture theatre and suddenly realized that she was sitting just behind none other than Il Duce Mussolini himself. His visit was incognito, and successfully so, for no one recognized him in the half light of the cinema. He was enjoying everything hugely until, in the midst of a newsreel, a portrait of himself in heroic pose was thrown on the screen. The spectators of course, all arose, cheering wildly, all save Mussolini himself, who sat through the demonstration, fidgeting. His had been, obviously, a rather nice point—whether to stand up and risk being recognized honoring himself, or to remain modestly seated. After the excitement was over an old Italian lady who had the seat next him leaned over and said: "Signor, that's how we all feel, but it's safer to stand up."

Watch the Lanterns

The Farmer's Advocate says: As the days shorten the lantern comes into use in choring, night and morning. Plenty of hooks should be provided, and wires as well, along which the lantern may slide. Carelessness with the lantern has resulted in many disastrous fires.

The Union of South Africa, in 1921, had a white population of 1,500,000 against 5,000,000 blacks.

When BABIES are upset

Baby ills and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhea—a condition it is always important to check quickly. How would you meet this emergency—tonight? Have you a bottle of Castoria ready? There is nothing that can take the place of this harmless but effective remedy for children; nothing that acts quite the same, or has quite the same comforting effect on them.

For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an everyday aid. Its gentle influence will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. Its mild regulation will help an older child whose tongue is coated because of sluggish bowels. All druggists have Castoria; the genuine bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

Commands Atlantic Liner

Ronald Stuart Was First Canadian To Win the Victoria Cross In British Navy

At least one Canadian holder of the coveted Victoria Cross "worked his way" to England for the Prince of Wales' dinner on Nov. 9, and none can deny that he earned his passage. This is Commander Ronald Stuart, V.C., captain of the Canadian Pacific liner, "Duchess of York," the first Canadian to win the Victoria Cross in the British Navy.

Commander Stuart brought the C.P.R. steamer "Princess Elaine" to the Pacific coast on her maiden voyage last year and was later elevated to command of the crack Atlantic liner which he now sails.

WHAT WILL IT DO?

Needless Suffering

The next time a headache makes you stay at home—

Or some other ache or pain prevents your keeping an engagement—

Remember Aspirin! For there is scarcely any sort of pain it cannot relieve, and relieve promptly.

These tablets give real relief, or millions would not continue to take them. They are quite harmless, or the medical profession would not constantly prescribe them.

Don't be a martyr to unnecessary pain. To colds that might so easily be checked; neuritis, neuralgia; to those pains peculiar to women; or any suffering for which Aspirin is such an effective antidote.

You need not hesitate to take Aspirin. It is safe. It is always the same. It never depresses the heart, so use it as often as needed; but the cause of any pain can be treated only by a doctor.

ATTEND THE DANCE

There will be a dance in the Elks hall on Monday night. The Carbon Elks are sponsoring this dance and the proceeds will all go to the Carbon skating and curling rinks. As this dance will be for the benefit of these sports, all interested in curling and skating are asked to attend and help these winter sports along. It seems that in the past when an organization puts on a dance, that when the "roll is called" it is found that there are probably ten per cent of the members there and they wonder why the undertaking is not a success. You can't blame the crowd for not attending these functions if the sponsors themselves will not turn out and try to make it a success. Put in your appearance for the sake of your favorite sport, you will be well repaid before the winter is over.

WHERE TO BUY

One of those myths which begin nobody knows where and are without rhyme or reason, is to the effect that one can buy cheaper out of town. The specious slogan "buy out of town and save money" profits no one but the mail order house and the city concern seeking business from smaller communities within shopping distance.

Quality being equal, the home town merchant can give his customers better values than his out of town competitors and what is equally important, can give each customer the personal service that counts so much in modern business relations. The best guarantee of quality is not the biggest store and the largest volume of business. In the small city or town where trade is limited the goodwill of each customer is jealously cultivated. There the merchant cannot afford to risk the loss of a patron by unfair business practices.

With the large city institution or the mail order house it is a different story. Every day they attract and lose thousands of customers. They are doing business on such a large scale that immediate profit is more essential than satisfying every customer.
They know that by extensive advertising they can get two customers for every one they lose without exhausting the field of new business.

When delivery charges or cartage are taken into account, one saves by buying at home for a few cents more than the catalogue price or mail order goods or the "sale" price of big city merchandise. Moreover, a considerable savings would not compensate one for the worry, delay and disappointment that are synonymous with mail order buying.

There is also an unselfish, community side of buying at home. Communities are only as prosperous as their business establishments. They are an accurate barometer of community loyalty and progressiveness. It has been truthfully said "buying at home makes the home-town grow."—Ex.

Pleased With Trial Shipments

Good Market Created in Dutch East Indies For B.C. Apples

From trial shipments of apples made in 1928, it has been definitely ascertained that there exists a market for British Columbia apples in Malaya and Dutch East Indies. During the three years a steady increase is shown in the number of boxes entering Java—nearly 50 per cent, since 1926, and the prospects are that 1929 will see a still further increase. Australia, the nearest, is naturally the chief source of supply, followed by the United States Pacific coast.

Alberta Produces About 86 Per Cent. Of Total For Dominion

Figures published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show that during the first six months of the present year 470,238 barrels of crude petroleum, valued at $1,643,025, were produced in Canada. This is an increase of 168,676 barrels, or 36.2 per cent, over the first half of 1928. The Province of Alberta contributed about 86 per cent. of the total for the Dominion, having produced 405,970 barrels.

Caught Him Off Guard

Plaintiff Lost Damage Case Through Cleverness Of Lawyer For Defence

A legal friend of mine told me the other day a good story illustrating the value of cross-examination in the hands of an expert at the game. At the time when the present Lord Birkenhead was plain Mr. F. E. Smith, he was retained by a tramway company in a running-down case. The plaintiff, a man of the laboring class, had had his arm injured, and he claimed that the injury was permanent and prevented him from working. If his case were correct, it was a case for heavy damages. Mr. Smith, however, was convinced that the man was exaggerating. The difficulty was to prove it. After several more or less irrelevant questions had been put and answered, Mr. Smith said to the plaintiff quite casually: "Would you mind showing the jury how high you can lift your arm since the accident?" The man, apparently with some difficulty, raised it to his shoulder. "Now," said Mr. Smith in the same casual tone of voice, "show us how high you could lift it before the accident." Up shot the plaintiff's arm, well above his head! The future Lord Birkenhead's insight into the man's mentality had won the tramway company their case.

Shipment Of Pure Bred Rams

Four Carloads Shipped From Ontario To Western Canada Points

What is hoped to be the first of a series of shipments of purebred rams from Ontario to the western ranches has just reached the prairies. The four carloads of 275 good purebred rams included Lincolns, Cotswolds, Leicesters, Hampshires, Southdowns and Cheviots, all selected by officials of the Canadian Co-Operative Wool growers Limited, who, along with the wool committee of the National Research Council, have been active in promoting sheep and wool interests in Canada. In the past large consignments of these sheep have been sent to the Western States for breeding with the native stock.

Canada's Sound Position

Prosperity Due In Large Measure To Agricultural Development

"We are all primarily conscious of the fact that this country, measured by any of the yardsticks by which the prosperity of a nation can be gauged, is a very prosperous country, notwithstanding disturbing stock markets and a rather unusual grain situation, both of which are, we hope, temporary," stated E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, at a dinner given in his honor by the St. Catharines Chamber of Commerce.

"There is, perhaps," continued Mr. Beatty, "no one reason to which we can attribute all the improvement in Canadian conditions in the last few years, but there is one which stands out above and beyond all others, and that is the impetus given by successive crops, large in volume or in money value. We hope the time will come when our prosperity will be said to be equally balanced as between agriculture and the development of natural resources and industry, but for the moment we are pre-eminently still an agricultural country and that when providence ordains that our crops shall be large we are almost inevitably prosperous."

WORLD PEACE THROUGH MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING

Golden Text: "They shall not hurt nor destroy in all My holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of Jehovah as the waters cover the sea."—Isaiah 11:9.

Lesson: Isaiah 2:2-4; 11:6-10; 19:23-25; Acts 17:22-28; Ephesians 4:4-6, 13-19; John 4:20, 21.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 98:1-9.

Explanations and Comments

Isaiah's Prophecy Of Universal Peace, Isaiah 2:3-4.—In the midst of foes within and foes without, at a time when the fear was overwhelming that Assyria would capture Judah, the prophet Isaiah had his vision of a time of universal peace. "It shall come to pass in the latter days"—thus his prophecy begins. The expression "the latter days" has the general meaning of "future time." In the far-distant time, Mount Moriah, on which the temple was built (the mountain of Jehovah's house), which stands here for Jerusalem, "shall be established on the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills." "Interpret the words figuratively as meaning that the fame of Jehovah will become so great that it will eclipse that of all other deities. The metaphor may be based upon an ancient belief that there was a mountain reaching from earth to heaven, on whose summit the gods dwelt." — Cal Elselon. "And all nations shall flow into it"; the time will come when other nations will acknowledge the supremacy of Israel and will say, "Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of Jehovah, to the house of the God of Jacob," the seat of God's universal dominion; "and He will teach us of His ways, and we will walk in His paths."

"Jerusalem, Isaiah tells us, shall be so lifted up as to become literally the light of the world, the true source of law and teaching. Well, history has fulfilled this prophecy, though not possibly as Isaiah anticipated. The actual Jerusalem is a little grey city, much scarred by millenniums of fighting in the uplands of Palestine; but, none the less, directly and indirectly, whatever our Christian world has of faith or vision today, has come from that city and from those who have walked its streets. Truly in this sense the mountain of the Lord's house has been exalted above the hills."—Gaius Glenn Atkins.

Therefore they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks, for in that glorious future nations shall not lift up sword against nations, neither shall they learn war any more. The plowshare was used for the stirring up of the soil, but it was only a small piece of iron somewhat resembling a sword in shape, and could well have been made out of a sword.

"Then I dipped into the future far as human eye could see;

Saw the vision of the world and all the wonder that would be. . . . The war drums throbbed no longer, and the battle flags were furled. In the Parliament of man, the Federation of the world.—Tennyson.

An Early Tractor

Thirty years ago, on September 6, 1899, a steam tractor was demonstrated near Morris, Man. This outfit, travelling at about 1 1/4 miles per hour, pulled ten ploughs, cutting a twelve foot swath to a depth of four inches. A roller was attached behind the ploughs, and it was claimed that a perfect seed-bed was created from raw prairie without back-setting.

Nature's Speed Artist

Insect Size Of Bee Travels 815 Miles Per Hour

The fastest known bird is the spine-tailed swift, which reaches the speed of 220 miles an hour over the mountains of Asia; the tarpon, of Florida, the fastest fish, can cover 80 miles in an hour; and the Indian cheetah, the speediest animal on legs, is credited with 60 miles per hour. Man has beaten all these records; but he is still second to an insect, a fly no bigger than a bee which has been recorded to do 815 miles per hour.

THEY SAY Cow Clipping Pays!

A CERTAIN farmer wanted the facts about clipping cows so he wrote us for names of those owning clipping machines. He wrote them. Now he himself is so pleased with the Stewart clipping machine he sent us the letters which made him decide the clipping machine is a good investment. Here are some of them:

Vankleek Hill. "I think a clipping machine is a sound investment, paying for itself — yes, ten times its price in one clipping. Why? Because it eliminates the lice nuisance and naturally it takes less feed to keep cattle in good condition."

Bowmanville. "It is the easiest way to keep cows clean. With the old hair off the lice do not bother. A farmer cannot afford to keep cows and not clip them, in my experience."

Tavistock. "It certainly reduces bacteria. It is a good investment to have the machine because it keeps down all the dirt and the milk keeps a lot better."

Aylmer. "We have clipped our cows now for the last ten or twelve years. It sure does away with the lice and when you get rid of the lice the cows milk a lot better. It not only keeps the manure from clinging to their hams, but when the udder is clipped dirt don't stick to it and get in the milk. The cows look a lot better to sell."

HOW TO CLIP COWS

Manure, the principal source of bacteria, cannot collect and at milking time rub off into the pail if hair on udder, underline, flanks and tail is kept clipped short all winter. Lice seem to congregate along the spine, which explains why some farmers clip a six inch width from tail to ears. Farmers who have warm stables and drinking water inside, usually clip their cows all over in the fall.

Buy a clipping machine and make more money from your cows—with less work.

Stewart No. 1 Clipping Machine is easy to use and anyone can clip with it. Strong, sturdy, easy-running and will last for years.

VICTORY FOR FERGUSON FORCES IN ONTARIO

Toronto.—Premier G. Howard Ferguson, with his Conservative government intact and a greatly increased army of supporters, is now more solidly entrenched as the dominant political force in the province of Ontario.

Their ranks shattered by the defeats inflicted by the Conservatives in rural strongholds they regarded as invulnerable, only a corporal's guard of opposition strength will face the government when the legislative assembly, the 18th in the history of the province, convenes to enact the legislation for a greater Ontario, on which Premier Ferguson based his appeal to the people.

In giving the Ferguson government a mandate to administer the affairs for a third successive term, the people of Ontario gave the administration the strongest legislative representation ever accorded a government in the province.

The sweeping victory which exceeded the hopes of the most optimistic government supporters was a ringing answer to the prime minister's declaration that he was willing to stake his political life on the government's policy of control and sale of liquor by the government—the issue on which he was returned to power in the 1926 general election.

The standing as compared with the 1926 election follows:

Party	1929	1926
Conservatives	93	77
Liberals	9	21
Progressives	3	11
U. F. O.	1	13
Ind. Conservatives	1	0
Liberal-Progressives	1	0
Deferred	1	0
Doubtful	3	0

Total ..... 112 112

The landslide that swept the Ferguson government into power with at least 93 supporters in a house of 112 members carried down to defeat with it J. G. Leithbridge, the 74-year-old Progressive party leader who waged a hard fight in West Middlesex, which he had represented since 1919. He lost the seat in a three-cornered contest to Dr. L. W. Freele, the Conservative candidate by the slim minority of 39 votes.

W. E. N. Sinclair, K.C., the Liberal leader, saw his forces, which numbered 21 in the last house, dwindle to nine. He was re-elected in Ontario South, but his majority of more than 2,000 in the 1926 election was cut down to a bare 1,000.

Solved His Problem

Immigrant Out Of Work Broke Window To Get Jail Term

Saskatoon, Sask.—Falling in his search for employment during the past month and being without friends in this country, Joseph G. Jackson, immigrant, solved his part of the unemployment problem by throwing a brick through the plate glass window of the government liquor store on Third Avenue.

The crash of the glass evidently went unnoticed at the time so Jackson hunted up a sergeant of the police and told his story, and was taken to the cells. In police court he admitted his guilt and stated that he fully expected to go to jail, and was not disappointed for Magistrate Brown sentenced him to six months in Prince Albert.

France To Have Up-To-Date Facilities For Handling Wheat

Coulommiers, France.—France is to have a modern system of grain elevators. Strange as it may seem, there are but few elevators in France, and most of those that are modern are at the ports.

France's wheat crop is stored rather haphazardly. Jean Hennessy, Minister of Agriculture, told a congress of farmers here that the government would help to build enough up-to-date elevators to handle 30,000 bushels, a tenth of this year's harvest.

The report would seem to settle a controversy of long duration as to just what constitutes "a Canadian."

May Abolish Capital Punishment

Question Is Now An Issue In British House Of Commons

London, Eng.—The House of Commons adopted an amendment for appointment of a committee to report on the possibility of abolition of capital punishment.

When debate opened on a private member's resolution for abolition of the death penalty, Right Hon. John R. Clynes, secretary for home affairs, expressed government sympathy with the idea, but said the question of an alternative to such punishment was the rock on which all projects for abolition had split.

He agreed with the amendment finally adopted for study of the matter, which he hoped might lead to some practical result. In the course of the discussion Lady Astor expressed great disappointment in the attitude of the minister. She had broken a ten-year custom earlier today by appearing at the afternoon session without a hat as most of the other women have done regularly.

Writ Has Been Issued

General Higgins Asks Transfer Of Salvation Army Property

London, Eng.—A writ on behalf of General Higgins, the new commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, asking for transfer to himself of army property now held in the names of the executors of the late General Bramwell Booth has been issued.

The writ was served immediately on General Booth's executors, Mrs. Booth, Commissioner Catherine Booth, his daughter and a solicitor, Sneath. The situation at present is that while all property of the army in Great Britain is controlled by General Higgins, its ownership remains in the hands of General Booth's executors.

Travelling from Winnipeg to Montreal by Imperial Limited, crack Canadian Pacific Flyer, Colleen Moore, smiling Irish actress, opened her eyes to more than average wideness as she got her first glimpse of the prairies and the East from the luxurious compartment of a Canadian Pacific train de luxe. She told interviewers that she had been in a condition of amazement all through her trip and the word "wonderful" was continually on her lips. She is shown here stepping from the train at the Windsor Street station, Montreal, just before receiving an ovation from her countless admirers who gathered at the depot and later at the theatre where she appeared in person.

DOMINION STATUS FOR INDIA WILL BE CONSIDERED

London, Eng.—A London newspaper published what purports to be a summary of the report of the Indian central committee, appointed under Sir Nankaran Mair, from members of the Indian legislature, to work in co-operation with the Simon commission on statutory reform. The commission has concluded its work after a month in London, and is ready to submit a unanimous report to the viceroy of India, with whom lies discretion regarding publication.

The newspaper report, however, suggests the committee practically recommends something like Dominion status for India and full autonomy for the provinces.

The newspaper continues that the report recommends formation of an Indian privy council under the chairmanship of the viceroy. It demands that the Indian parliament be given greater control of the army votes, and expresses the opinion that India, if left free, would desire to recruit its police service largely from England, but that India would be able to maintain her own judicial service.

Delhi, India.—Viceroy Lord Leroy was said today to intend to issue a proclamation which will deal with the question of Dominion status for India, and announce the summoning of a conference in London to discuss the future constitutional development of India.

It was assumed that pending the decision of the British government in regard to recommendations that may be made by the Simon commission, the proclamation will make no distinct promise that will indicate the policy of Great Britain.

SYNOPSIS

Al Stone, singing waiter at Blackie Joe's New York night club, wins fame as a composer of popular songs. He marries Molly Winton, a ballad singer, and makes her famous, too. When their baby, Junior, is about two years old, Molly elopes with John Perry, Al's best friend, taking the child. A week later Al learns she is at a New York hotel, ready to sail for France that afternoon. He calls her on the phone, and begs for the chance to say goodbye to Junior. Molly consents, so Junior is taken to the park entrance. It is a tragic farewell, for Al adores his boy. Junior says, "Do you feel bad, daddy?"

CHAPTER XX.

"I'm all right, Junior," said Al. "No, I don't feel bad. I'm just awfully happy to see you. I'll tell you something—you're going far away to another place on a great big boat. Take care of mother and don't let anything happen to her. Be good to her. And remember—you'll see daddy again; we must both wait for that time."

In the distance the nurse-maid was consulting the chauffeur as to the time. He looked at his watch and decided they should be getting back to the hotel. Al looked up to see the severe-faced nurse standing before him.

"I'm sorry," she said firmly, "but it's time for the young gentleman to return to his mother."

Junior turned on her quickly. "But I don't want to go."

The nurse tried to smile, but Junior continued with baby sternness. "If you take me away so soon I won't like you."

Al rose, gathering Junior in his arms. "Sh-h—Junior. It isn't nurse's fault that you have to go. You must be a good boy, every way, every day." Then Al turned to the nurse. "I'll bring him over to the car. Will you please go on ahead?"

The nurse preceded them, while Al made that one hundred-foot walk to the car last as long as possible. Would this really be the last time he ever saw Junior? Perhaps not, but it was quite possible that Junior would be a strapping youngster the next time they came together. If so his adorable baby sayings and his sense of baby gaiety would be gone. His sweet, confiding ways would be replaced by a boyish self-sufficiency. He might even forget his father entirely.

These thoughts travelled like burning darts through Al's mind.

was it humanly possible for him to give up this little bundle of humanity? Could he live afterward? And then came the thought—take Junior by force, jump into taxi and drive off with him. For a moment this idea persisted with startling intensity. It would be so easy, and he would be justified in doing it!

But, no, Al just couldn't do it—he wasn't made that way. He was kind, generous, chivalrous. He loved Molly in spite of what she had done to him, and he knew she adored Junior. No matter how Molly had hurt him, Al's nature would not let him pay her back in kind. Let Junior go with her and perhaps she would relent and return with the child within a few months. He knew she would take good care of his son.

Al kept his facial muscles firm and controlled until the instant of saying goodbye and putting Junior into the car. Then he had to turn his face away again as he pressed Junior to him. He said haltingly:

"Don't forget, Junior, your mother loves you—you're going to be awfully happy with her. Don't worry—about daddy."

Even the strange nurse was touched by this father's tragic face. Then Al, afraid of breaking openly, quickly passed Junior to her in the car. The motor purred, the door closed, the Rolls-Royce started to move. Al saw Junior's face, dim in the limousine's interior, gazing at him in wide-eyed, troubled wonder.

Al was smiling. It was a desperate effort, but Junior must remember him that way. As the car gained momentum the baby face appeared at the rear window; Junior was waving a frantic farewell. Al started to walk after the car—faster, faster. Now he broke into a run. His heart was breaking, but still he smiled and answered Junior's wave. He stumbled and almost fell, then caught himself up and ran the faster. But the little face at the window became blurred by the intervening distance and suddenly the car itself disappeared down the crowded Avenue.

When Al definitely lost sight of the car he stopped in his tracks. People on all sides were staring at him, conscious that he was passing through a terrible ordeal of some kind. As long as Junior was in sight he had kept up a brave front; now his figure sagged, and he stumbled blindly toward the nearest bench.

He sat with his arm flung across the top of the bench and his head in his arms. He felt that he could not bear to face the life that moved around him, so steadily and relentlessly, a law unto itself and ignoring his despair. He heard the steady hum of the motor cars up and down the Avenue, carrying women home from shopping tours, bridge parties and tea dates, carrying men home from offices. Faintly he heard the footsteps of the pedestrians who passed only a few feet away.

Many curious glances were directed his way. If he had been a down-at-the-heels derelict of the great city he could have sat for hours in that position without attracting any notice at all, but it was unusual to see a fashionably dressed young man with a silver-topped walking stick across his lap sitting on a bench just outside the park's stone wall in a posture suggesting despair. Two girls, passing close by, giggled, believing Al drunk. But when he raised his eyes and stared at them vaguely they relapsed into silence and hurried away.

Finally he stood up and turned back toward the bench where he had sat with Junior. Reaching it, he stepped close and touched it. He must always remember this bench, the scene of his good-bye to Junior. He took note of the fact that it stood beside a small, bare oak tree with a curiously gnarled trunk.

The winter day was darkening already; nurses from the fashionable houses along the Avenue were bringing home their baby charges who had been playing all afternoon in the park. There was a procession of them—babies in perambulators, little tots of two, three and four, carried in their nurses' arms or trotting along beside the women. Many were dressed similarly to Junior, some looked very like him. And Al stood, slightly away from the sidewalk, peering eagerly into the little faces, listening to the chatter and childish laughter. These youngsters—they were going home to happy nurseries, to fathers and mothers who loved them and were united.

How uncanny it was, thought Al, that this procession of babies passed him just at this time, when he had lost Junior. He stood like a statue until long after the last youngster had disappeared and the last remonstrating tone of the chattering French nurses had died away. Then he turned south toward the city's skyscrapers, already ablaze with light in the distance. Skyscraper apartments—home-reaching into the cold blue winter evening sky! Everything he saw brought comparisons emphasizing the pain of his loss.

He walked slowly, asking himself—Where was he going? Back to the apartment where Celeste, the maid, waited with pitying eyes, back to Junior's nursery? No, he couldn't do that. He must tell Celeste tomorrow that he was giving up the apartment. He would go to a hotel to live.

But what were his plans? He must have plans, something to engage his interest, or he would go crazy with the pain of his loss. That was Al's big problem at the moment, and he knew it. Without plans he would be continually whirling in an emotional chaos.

He had plenty of money—that didn't worry him. And he knew that Molly had salted away everything she had earned as a revue singer. She was amply able to provide for Junior. Besides, John Perry had made himself rich as a booze racketeer. No, the money angle could be set aside.

HOW TO RELIEVE CHILDREN'S COLDS

Avoid Serious Results By Using Baby's Own Tablets

When a child shows the first symptoms of a cold, such as sneezing, redness of the eyes, clogged or running nose, prompt measures for relief may avert serious results. Mothers should always have on hand some simple safe and effective remedy for immediate use.

Baby's Own Tablets act quickly, contain no opiates or narcotics, are tasteless and harmless. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Cadieux, Holyoke, Mass., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children and find them a very satisfactory medicine. When my little boy had a cold I gave him the Tablets at night and he was well the next day. I gave them to the children for constipation and they are always benefited. I think Baby's Own Tablets are much easier to give a child than liquid medicine. I strongly recommend all mothers who have young children to keep a box of the Tablets in the house."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Fifty Years Hence

A news item reveals that more than 1,000,000 children are transported to and from school in buses these days. Biographers of presidents 50 years hence no doubt will record: "He trudged to school daily in a six-cylinder bus, a distance of 15 miles."

Holland Builds Largest Locks

Third Longer and Half as Wide Again As Panama Canal Locks

The most important of the numerous canals in Holland is that which since 1876 has connected Amsterdam, Holland's second seaport with the ocean. With the gradual increase in the size of the ocean-going vessels, says the Netherlands News Bureau, this canal had to be widened and deepened until at present it belongs, according to its dimensions, to the same class of large, internationally known artificial waterways as the Panama and Suez Canals. The North Sea canal has only one set of locks. These separate the turbulent waters of the North Sea from the calm, unruffled surface of the waterway and the many neighboring smaller canals and ditches. The locks are located at the coast near the town of IJmuiden, one of the important fishing centers of Holland.

As the canal has grown, so have the locks. Those in use at the present time admit ships of about 20,000 registered tons to enter the canal and thus reach Amsterdam. The ever increasing tonnage, especially of the modern liners, made imperative the construction of new locks which would be able to accommodate ocean vessels of any size. The locks have been under construction for a number of years and are expected to be ready early in September.

They will be the largest locks in the world; in length they exceed the locks of the Panama Canal by one-third, in width by one half. The largest ships afloat, the Leviathan and the Majestic, will be able to pass these locks without any difficulty. The preliminary depth of thirty-eight feet will give to the canal a profile with an area of about 14,000 square feet. This is more than the Suez Canal and a little less than the Panama Canal.

The gates weigh nearly 1,200 tons each. They are opened by rolling them back into recesses of exactly their size in the north wall. As no dry dock is available in the neighborhood which could accommodate the gates in case of necessary repairs the recesses had to be fixed up as dry docks. There are two gates in the western end of the lock chamber, one of which can be used as a reserve lock to replace either of the other two. The lock chamber can be filled in less than seven minutes. When the tide is very high it will take a little longer. The whole lock is operated electrically.

A Clever Goose

A bright light of the goose world, in England, is Jimmy, a goose owned by a South Elssal miner. Leaping through a hoop, washing his face, toe dancing and jumping over his owner's arm are some of the tricks he boasts of. He partakes of his meals sitting in a high chair at the table and his manners are said to be perfect. He also stands at attention and salutes whenever the national anthem is played.

Worms, by the irritation they cause in the stomach and intestines, deprive infants of the nourishment that they should derive from food, and mal-nutrition is the result. Miller's Worm Powders destroy worms and correct the morbid conditions in the stomach and bowels that are favorable to worms, so that the full nutrition of the child is assured and development in every way encouraged.

Test Was Successful

New German Device Drives Car By Liquid Gas

A new type of automobile, with liquid gas as the propelling agent, has been successfully tested at Essen, Germany, by Max Valler, the inventor.

The car was set in motion by the force of the loud sputtering escaping gas from three steel tubes attached to the rear of the driver's seat. Speed and halting the car was controlled by opening and closing the escape valves.

The car reached a top speed of about 37 miles an hour, but the inventor said that with perfection of the method he expects vehicles to surpass all speed records, and predicted that the method would revolutionize the motive power for airplanes.

Little Helps For This Week

"For the Lord God will help me."—Isaiah 1. 7.

Be but faithful, that is all; Go right on, and close behind thee There shall follow still, and find thee, Help, sure help!

—Arthur Hugh Clough.

What I can do with my single arm may be mean enough; but that is not the question. The thing to consider is, what can I do with God to help me? And the difference of the one and the other is the difference between a man trying to push a train of cars up grade by his single puny strength, and the same man on a locomotive with the steam up, moving the whole mass by a turn of the wrist.

—Robert Collier.

THE SELLERS OF SEALS

This month there has come into the Head Office of the Red Cross Society in Edmonton the annual shipment of Christmas Seals to be sold for the benefit of the little crippled children in hospital under the Junior Red Cross in Calgary and Edmonton.

It is a stupendous task getting rid of such a large quantity and would be well nigh impossible were it not for the splendid band of eager young salesmen and salesladies who make it their especial pride and privilege to merchandise these attractive stamps.

When every Red Cross Junior member begins business as a seller of seals he puts himself in touch with a great united effort that extends from coast to coast in every province of Canada where there are Juniors working to keep their pledge of service to the sick.

Alberta Juniors have long been famous for their remarkable efforts at Christmas time, or rather earlier than that, for it is necessary that seals be sold for parcels and letters that are going on their errands of goodwill across the seas to the Motherland or to other parts of the world. It is an easy matter for the reader to decide that in so far as he is able and surely all can do this small courtesy, he will patronize the little merchants who are earnestly trying to dispose of packages of seals.

A little imagination helps the purchaser in the pleasant thought that his seal money, though small in itself, is part of a great and worthy effort made by the children of the province to assist those who are so unfortunate as to be patients in hospital, and who, thanks to Junior Red Cross, are getting the chance they need to be made well and whole.

Two men can admire the same shirt and be friends; but 'tis different when they admire the same skirt.

"Wuz you very sick wid de flu, Rastus?"

"Wuz ah sick? Why man, ah looked ebbery mawnin' in de casualty list for mah name."

The up-and-coming young man is pretty likely to succeed unless he is up at four and just coming home.

He—I feel like a two-year-old.
 She—Horse or egg?

Petite Customer—May I see your very thinnest in silk hosiery?"

Clerk: "I'm sorry, sir, but she is off for the afternoon."

WHAT AM I?

I have brought food to the hungry.
 I have brought comfort to the weary.
 I have brought warmth to the shivering.

I have brought education to the ignorant.

I have paid off thousands of mortgages.

I have built homes for the homeless.

I have compensated doctors who presided at child birth, paid for honeymoons for lovers, and tombstones at death.

I have brought civilization to the wilderness, prosperity to poverty, and happiness to misery.

I have brought comfort, ease and well-being to the mighty and to the humble.

I took the farmer out of the lumber wagon and put him in a Cadillac.
 I took wives out of kitchens and put them at bridge tables.

My name is known wherever oil is produced, and my good deeds are known wherever Mother Nature has smiled.

I am OIL ROYALTY:

Friend: "Is it true, doctor, that the appendix is absolutely useless?"

Dr. Quack: "Useless? Why, it's a veritable gold mine for us surgeons."

Father: "Young lady, do you mean to tell me you've been carrying that money around in your stocking?"

Dora: "Why, daddy, you told me to put it where it would draw interest."

Promoter: "Couldn't you sell your rich uncle some of this oil stock?"

Partner: "I don't care for that idea—he might leave it to me in his will."

"Were you personally conducted on your tour?"
 "Yes, my wife went along."

Consider the stork—
 Peculiar bird!
 It's never seen
 And it's never heard;
 Yet what it brings,
 In bundles small,
 Is seen by many
 And heard by all.
